Caller Wins October Steeplechase, in Which Zinziber Is a Disappointment-Colonsay First by a Head in Mile Handleap -Five Favorites Lose at Morris Park.

More disagreeable weather could not have been provided for racegoers at Morris Park that of yesterday afternoon. The rain fell steadily and everybody sought The track, fast in the morning, was soon turned into heavy going and over it only one favorite succeeded in making

The Ramapo Handicap, at a mile and furlong. Withers course, was the stake feature and it produced a hair raising finish be tween Perry Belmont's River Pirate, a noted mud runner, and John W. Schorr's Injunction, recently purchased by the Memphis brewer at the Keene sale. The latter closed slight favorite over River Pirate at 5 to Mr. Belmont's colt carrying a wealth of backing at threes. W. C. Whitney's Judith Campbell and Girdle receded from 5 to 2 to fives, with Ada Nay and Rostand steady at sixes The Whitney fillies started off in the lead. but soon died to nothing. Then Ada Nay showed in front at the far turn, with Rostand and injunction pressing her hotly. Hicks had trailed ast with River Pirate meanwhile, but when the head of the stretch was reached the colored jockey moved up on the outside. Injunction had drawn away, and as River Pirate hooked up with him Bullman went to the whip. Hicks never rode a stronger finish in his career, and at the last sixteenth his colt was on even terms with the Keene cast-off. Hicks never made a move for his whip and, riding Mr. Belmont's colt out in magnificent style, took the race by a neck in 1:54 3-5, the last mile being covered in 1:42 1-5, the record for the stake being Ada Nay was ten lengths behind The October Steeplechase Handicap, at about vo miles and a half, proved to be a sad blow for those who made the Chamblet entry, Zinziber and Adjidaumo, favorite at 8 to 5. it was in the $10,000 champion steeplechase on Saturday that Zinziber, after making nost of the running, finished third, and beruse of this performance it was believed that he had yesterday's race at his mercy. But he ran as if he carried a ton on his back, nd was forty lengths outside of the money E. Widener's Caller, second choice, showed he way almost from the first jump and won moressively by four lengths in 4:48. L. V. Bell's Baron Pepper, third choice, showing big improvement over his previous per-ormance, was second, a length and a half before Judge Phillips, backed down to fours. before Judge Phillips, backed down to fours. The handicap at a mile was a puzzle to the talent. Lord Badge ruled favorite at 13 to 10, with Bill Daly's Colonsay and Himself at 13 to 5, while Foxhall Keene's Stolen Moments, who gave weight to the others, closed at 2 to 1. Michaels had Colonsay in front from the first jump. But it was a tight fit at the end, Lord Badge and Stolen Moments closing strongly in the run home. Colonsay got the verdict by a head in 1:41, however, Lord Badge beating the Keene filly by a neck.

Colonsay got the verdict by a head in 1:41, however, Lord Badge beating the Keene filly by a neck.

Frank Farrell's Hoodwink, 7 to 5 favorite, was beaten a head in the first event, at a mile, by W. B. Gray's Early Eve, who was played all over the ring for small amounts and was lowered to tens. Hoodwink was three parts of a length in front of Blue Victor, a 50 to 1 shot. The time was 1:42 1-5.

Atwood, played down to fours, won the third race, for maiden two-year-olds at five furlongs, Eclipse course, by half a length, but in another jump Fred Burlew's Ancestor, 8 to 1, would have beaten him. The latter came from behind and took place money from R. T. Wilson, Jr.'s Gananogue, 6 to 1, by a length. The time was 1:01.

J. E. Madden's Medal, 7 to 1, won the last race, at a mile, by running over Guy Park, the favorite, in the last fifty yards and beating him a scant length in 1:42 4-5. Phaon, 7 to 1, was half a length behind and two lengths in front of Sabot, who was hammered down at the last moment to 13 to 5 and was shut in most of the journey. Ten thousand persons were present.

Turf Gossip From Morris Park.

When Early Eve won the first race a ridicuous rumor was circulated that the filly carried an electric saddle. Those who told the story said that they heard of it several days As a result several men went to the scales to examine the saddle and found nothng wrong with it. Early Eve is owned by the man who pulled off the McGovern-Palmer fight at Tuckahoe in the open air. It was said that $25,000 was taken out of the ring on he filly's victory.

The stewards of the Westchester meeting made an official announcement yesterday that after investigating The Fiddler case the had found that the gelding was all that hi owner asserted him to be. Consequently the entry of The Fiddler will be accepted at the ocal tracks in future. Pneumonia has taken a grip on "Tony" Aste's stable. Pirouette and Dinksie have both died from the disease and Montana King is seriously ill. both died from the disease and Montana King is seriously iil.

It was said yesterday that John W. Schorr had released Bullman from second call on his services, and as August Belmont had first call the jockey will be open for an engagement at the end of the season.

Fuller rode in the Whitney colors yesterday, having the mount on Judith Campbell in the fifth race and receiving preference over Redfern, who rode Girdle.

The story will not down that the Jockey Club may soon reinstate JockeysWillie Shaw and Louis Smith and that they will have a rehearing before the meeting at Morris Park ends on Saturday.

Salling was set down for one day and Houbre was fined $25 for disobedience at the post in the third race. Atwood, winner of this event, was run up to $2,000 and bought in by his owner.

IN THE FOOTBALL WORLD. QUAKERS DAILY PRACTICE A VA-

RIED ASSORTMENT OF MOVES. New Rules an Encouragement to the Fake Kick-Total Scores of Team Show Pennsylvania at the top, With the Elis

Second-Progress of the Elevens

The daily football instruction at the University of Pennsylvania consists of a varied assortment of manæuvres, each of which has its use, with the whole calculated to impart a thoroughness in the radiments of the game. The criticism applied to the Quakers two years ago, that they were up in the ground work of the game and that individual knowledge of positions was lacking, 'can hardly hold under the Williams system of coaching. Dr. Williams started n last year to teach the men football from the ground up, and whatever the team may or may not accomplish as a team this season, it will not be for want of rudimentary preparation. A casual onlooker at the Quakers' daily practice might be led to think that so much time was put in in preliminary work as to remove the zest for the scrimmage practice, which comes last on the programme First there are men out, candidates for some particular position, receiving verbal instructions from a coach in the ins and outs of the position, and this, interrupted from time to time by a practical illustration of how to stand, break through, block off and other things. Drop kicking and punting and catching the ball then take up a share of the afternoon, and among the other things are charging a padded board attached to a platform, which rolls along on wheels and passing the ball from man to man, each man making sure to place the ball in his arm in the way he would hold it if running with it in a game. Another trick is for the men to stretch out on their toes and hands and fall flat on the ground at pistol fire

Some beat the pistol, some are exactly with t and some fail altogether to drop. So far as could be judged from watching one afternoon's practice the other day it was evident that the Quakers have a splendid ot of material, enough to put three teams on the field any of which has the making of varsity team. Also it would appear that a number of men will be called on to run with the ball, as in practice not only the backs but the ends, tackles and guards ran with the leather, the line men from their position in the line. The delayed pass, which Penn-sylvania first made famous and which Yale ast year brought to the highest point of ffectiveness, is also being used. The work In the line-ups was loose and poorly organ-ized. It must be welded together to be good n big games, and at this period Pennsylvania's attack is not as compactly formed nor an aggressive as Columbia's, whom the Quakers play here in two weeks. The Pennsylvanians as a rule are rangier in build than the Columbia forces.

One open play which the new rules tend to encourage is the fake kick. The full back may how drop back as if for a kick and yet run with the ball on a direct pass from the centre. True, he must run five yards out, but he would do that anyway on a fake kick to clear the end. The fake kick run is a pretty play, but costly if not successful, and like most fake plays to be used only at rare intervals. Incidentally, the nuarter back run on a direct pass has been little tried so far. If the coaches like it they are holding it back. Columbia has made better use of it than any of the others.

Pennsylvania now heads the list in total points scored against opponents, with Yale second, 2 points behind. The total points of the different teams and opponents to date of the different teams and opponents to date are as follows:

Harvard, 70-0 (4 games); Yale, 133-0 (4 games)
Princeton, 107-0 (3 games); Pennsylvania, 185-0 (4 games); Columbia, 91-0 (4 games); Cornell, 49-0 (3 games); West Point, 17-0 (2 games); Indians, 86-0 (3 games); Lafayette, 47-0 (2 games); Dartmouth, 65-0 (3 games); Brown, 34-0 (2 games); Dartmouth, 65-0 (8 games); Williams, 37-28 (3 games); Wesleyan, 0-54 (3 games); Syracuse, 70-0 (2 games); Dickinson, 40-27 (2 games); Franklin and Marshall, 33-5 (2 games); Bucknell, 27-12 (2 games); Manhattan, 24-40 (2 games).

Wesleyan has yet to make a point but then she has been against Columbia, Brown and Yale. Yale's 48 to 0 against Vermont looks pretty big, and so does Princeton's 68 to 0 against Gettysburg, but Dartmouth made 38 to 0 against Vermont and the Indians 48 to 0 against Gettysburg, showing that teams not as strong as the Elis and Tigers have found the two latters' respective opponents pretty easy. The total scores of the two big football feeders, Andover and Exeter academies, are of interest. Andover has a total of 92 to 0 for three games and Exeter academies, three games. and Exeter 34 to 0 for three games.

Speaking of Cooney, the promising fresh-man tackle at Princeton, whom Harvard expected and whom old Nassau got, a Bos-ton report says: "Cooney passed all of his ton report says: "Cooney passed all of his examinations in the spring and would undoubtedly have come to Harvard if he had been given a scholarship. Why the Harvard administrative board refused It to him is almost inexplicable, as aid is freely given to meritorious students, and according to all accounts Cooney was as hard and diligent a student as he was football player. But, failing to get the pecuniary aid, he could not see his way clear to coming to Harvard and joined the Princeton squad."

LAWRENCEVILLE, Oct. 8.—The first game of the football season at Lawrenceville School was played yesterday against the strong team of the Haverford Grammar School last year's champions of the Philadelphia Interscholastic League. The game was not as close as the score indicates, as Lawrenceville's goal was never in danger. Seven of her team were members of last year's victorious eleven, while the new material is plentiful and promising, auguring well for the championship game with Andover at the end of the season. The score: Lawrenceville, 6 Haverford, 0.

columbia has not enough heavy candidates for the eleven, according to Coach Morley and Capt. Smith. Accordingly they have issued an earnest appeal for heavy men to report as candidates. Despite the weather the candidates and members of the 'varsity eleven had about half an hour's practice yesterday. The men first ran through signals, both teams taking part in this work, and followed this by lining up for the kick off and going down the field and tackling the man with the ball. No conclusions were possible as to the improvement of the team because of the pouring rain, which made the field a sea of mud and the ball very slippery. Columbia meets Williams at the Polo teams of Harvard and Pennsylvania.

Columbia neets williams at the Polio Grounds to-morrow afternoon and a hard game is likely to result. The visiting team is one of the strongest of the minor elevens and in past years has always managed to put up a game struggle with Columbia. Students in the law school have decided to form a team and if possible play the law school teams of Harvard and Pennsylvania.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 8.—Although the rain was pouring down and the field was slippery, the coaches put the men through a hard practice to-day. The combination of Barney at centre, Dewitt at right guard and Short at left guard continues to hold and this is probably how the centre trio will line up for the rest of the season. The coaches have given up individual instructions and are devoting their time mostly to developing the centre and the backs. Behind the line the work of Vetterlein has been causing considerable interest this week. Heretofore Burke was regarded as the man most likely to be the 'varsity quarter, but within the last few days Vetterlein has taken great strides toward winning the place. His work in yesterday's game was brilliant and if he continues in his present form his chances of being one of the men to play against Yale next month are good. The Tigers play Brown next Saturday at Providence and next week come the hard games with Lehigh and the Carlisle Indians.

Carlisle Indians.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 8.—The Yale squad showed no damage as a result of its game with the Wesleyans yesterday. Capt. Rafferty, Roraback, Rockwell and Mitchell were the only ones kept on the side lines. McCoy, in the place of Mitchell behind the varsity line, set an awful pace that Metcalf and Bowman quickly took up, with the result that Yale's offence was the flercest of the season. Only twice was the college line crossed.

P. C. Smith, B. Scott and La Cour were all tried out at centre. Holten, the divinity student and old Amherst substitute centre, was tried at guard on the college eleven. All played their positions with much improvement. Krug Andrews of the graduate school, who has been at the Yale field off and on for years, was out to-day and tried in Bioomer's place. McCoy and Holten were sent to the benches with injuries of a minor nature. Soper was taken from half and tried at quarter on the college team. His lack of weight bars him from half back.

practice line ups prove that the Ithacans will be in pretty fine fettle when they line up against the strong aggregation from Colgate University on Saturday. Since Brewster appeared at the field the forwards have had more confidence, and there is now a semblance of team work for the first time. Coffin may be transferred from half back to full back. He is heavy, and it is thought that he can stand more puniahment than can McAllister. In to-day's practice Coffin fid not report, and Van Fleet was at full back. He is a freshman and handled himself pretty well. The position at left guard is very unsettled. For is now believed that Wilder will be unable to fill the bill because he is too slow, and Smith and Lull have been tried there. No definite selection will be made for this position, and it is causing Coach Warner more trouble than any other position in the line.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 8.—The Harvard varsity eleven was defeated in practice to-day by the score of 5 to 0. On the second eleven were four old 'varsity players who tore the 'varsity line to pieces, Buster Burnett, E. H. Green Charlie Barnard and Dick Lawrence. Not only was the 'varsity scored on, but several times held for downs and several times forced to punt. It was the best football game seen on Soldiers' Field this fall. Several changes were made in the squad to-day. Harry Lemoyne, the freshman from Stone's school, was played at left end on the 'varsity in the scrimmage and did fairly well. This is the third position he has been tried at and the coaches think that he will fit in somewhere, as he is a big, strong man. Mercer, who has been playing full back on the second, has been moved into the line and to-day played tackle on the second against the 'varsity, playing a fair game. Brown quarter back for Exeter two years ago and last year substitute freshman quarter, rejoined the squad yesterday. Haley and Nichols were out again to-day but did only light work. Capt. Marshall will probably be in condition to play in Saturday's game.

Miss Adair Defeats Miss Margaret Curtis

Only After a Tie. PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—Rain fell in torrents on the links of the Merion Cricket Club to-day. where the second match play rounds wer decided in the golfing gala arranged by Mrs Clement A. Griscom. The sensation of the day, Judging from the international viewpoint, was that Miss Rhona Adair, the cham-bion of the United Kingdom, had to go twenty holes to beat Miss Margaret Curtis, runner up to Miss Frances Griscom for the champion ship of 1900; while that of interstate consequence was that Miss Georgianna Bishop, Connecticut's best player, beat Miss Osgood, champior of the Massachusetts State Golf Association. Mrs. Charles T. Stout was a winner also and many said she is the "class" of the tournament. Mrs. Stout's caddie is John Harrison the professional, who helped her win the national championship, both at Baltusrol and Brookine, but the others depended on the regular boys or on friends.

At the start the match did not go well with Miss Curtis, and at the eleventh hole she was 4 down. Here, in deflance hole she was 4 down. Here, in deflance of the deluge, Miss Frances Griscom became her caddie. She proved a mascot, for thereafter Miss Curtis did not make a mistake or lose a hole. At the home green Mrs. Griscom called her daughter away, and Miss Harriet Curtis took her place. A fine 5 halved the first extra hole, but on the second, the twentieth hole of the match, the Boston girl, who had bravely tried for the bunker on her second, did not succeed, and Miss Adair, who had played short and prudently, was enabled to win by the narrow marghi. It was one of the hardest matches of her career, as she told W. M. McCawley, who was her caddie. The card was:

Washington, Oct. 8.—Rain marred the opening of the annual fall golf tournament of the Columbia Club here to-day. Thirty-two out of over forty entries completed the qualifying round, of thirty-six holes. Dr. Lee Harbin, Columbia, won the prize for lowest gross score with a card of 160, two overbogey figures. FIGHTS OUT OF TOWN. Three Slashing Bouts Decided-Austin Rice Wins His Mill.

Pugilists had a busy night of it on Wednes day, three stirring bouts being decided The most interesting was the one between Tommy Sullivan of Brooklyn and Clarence Forbes, brother of Harry Forbes, the ex-bantam champion. They met at Omaha and were to have it out for ten rounds. The end came in the fifth. Up to that time it looked like anybody's fight, but a severe blow in the pit of the stomach drove Forbes to the ropes He was helped to his feet by one of the spec tators and just as he was about to get set

He was neiged to his feet by one of the spectators and just as he was about to get set Sullivan landed heavily on the jaw, knocking Forbes out. Forber's handler insisted that their man was fouled, but the refered said that the blow was a fair one.

Joe Bernstein met Jack Murretto in private to a finish. About one hundred sports attended the combat and they saw a very fast battle. The mill was decided near Mount Vernon. For the first four rounds Marretto made a very good showing, but after that he was not in it. Bernstein then hustled along and punished Murretto severely. Although somewhat tired, Bernstein caught Murretto hard on the point of the chin in the eleventh and knocked his rival out.

Austin Rice, the "Iron Man," who has been fighting many years, won a slashing contest against Billy Ryan before the Westfield Athletic Association, Westfield, Mass. The battle was for twenty rounds and went the limit. It was a gruelling affair throughout, Rice doing the bulk of the leading. When the contest was decided in Rice's favor the crowd hissed the decision.

PERILOUS TRIP FOR AUTOISTS.

STORM IN CATSKILLS MAKES EN-DURANCE CONTEST A HARDSHIP.

Only One-Third of the Starters Complete the 105 Miles' Run-One Car De stroyed by Fire-Hail, Rain and Wind Add to the Tribulations of Contestants.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Oct. 8.-The second day of the automobile endurance contest from New York to Pittsburg witnessed what most experienced automobilists declare to be the most extraordinary achievement n the way of endurance ever accomplished anywhere. The day brought suffering to all engaged in the run and it brought deep woe to many who hoped to do great things. The run for the day was one of 105% miles, from Pine Hill to Binghamton, through some of the highest and wildest parts of the Catskill Mountains, where good roads are unknown. The last straw was added by a heavy hail, rain and wind storm. This made the negotiation of the distance a feat as great as some that have passed into history. The conditions can best be characterized by quoting Fred Nickerson, who ran one of the pilot cars. He said that he has travelled through the Rocky Mountains in becember, January and February, but never knew of such hard going there as he saw to-day. In spite of these conditions, ten had reached here by 10 o'clock to-night Of these nine were touring cars and one a runabout.

The cars then in were: No. 5, Webb Jay White; No. 40, D. J. Wurgis, Oldsmobile No. 14, C. L. Shippy, Arrow: No. 10, G. W. Soule, Arrow; No. 9, M. M. Winter, Toledo; No. 2, Bert Holcomb, Columbia; No. 35, F. B. Stearns, Stearns; No. 36, A. L. Riker, Loco-mobile; No. 4, George S. Waite, White. In Mr. Riker's car Mrs. Riker, the only woman in the run, had ridden at his side these two It was a day of accidents and tribulations, the two pilot cars that scatter the confetti scent being the only ones not late at confetti scent being the only ones not late at the night control.

The worst mishap reported is the burning of a Fránklin car near Delhi. It is not known whether H. L. Winter, John Wilkinson or W. H. Bex was the operator. The car is said to have been completely destroyed, the commonest story of mishap was that of being stuck in a ditch. The car of M. H. Winters had to be pulled out of a ditch by a horse, while the car of Bert Holcomb, who recently made a record over these roads, was dragged out of another gully by a fellow competitor.

The car of F. B. Stearns came in with the front axle bent. These things happened to the cars that have finished, but the fate of those still out is unknown. Many have failed to reach the luncheon place and fears are entertained here for the safety of the men, for the day has been a perilous one. Webb Jay, the first to finish, got in at 4:48 o'clock. It was nearly 8 o'clock when he left Pine Hill. No. 16, E. T. Fetch, arrived at 10:45.

one. Webb Jay, the first to fillish, got in a 4:48 o'clock. It was nearly 8 o'clock when he left Pine Hill. No. 16, E. T. Fetch, arrived at 10:45.

Thirty-three cars left Pine Hill this morning after they had stood in an open field all night in a heavy rain. Two of the three cars that were still out when last night's report was made arrived at Pine Hill later. F. L. Thomas, in the Fredonia, that ran into L. L. Whitman on Wednesday morning, arrived at 11:30 o'clock.

His radiator was smashed by the collision, and that caused his delay. C. G. Gaither, in a Fredonia, got in at 1:17 o'clock this morning. Being later than midnight he was penalized one mark a minute from midnight till 7 o'clock this morning. A damaged connecting rod caused Gaither's delay. The third car missing last night, the Holly of G. M. Holly, is reported to have broken an axle near Kingston.

The troubles of the day began before half the machines had started. The rain began to fall heavily. It lasted all day. The route was over a succession of summits. The dirt mountain roads said by the natives to be in unusually bad condition before the rain became not only difficult but dangerous. Mud eight inches deep, hills that halted machines of the biggest horse power, declivities that were strewn with stones, washouts and big pools were not the worst features of the running.

The machines skidded from side to side violently at times, and went zigzag over a hundred yards or more before control of them could be regained. As the road often was along a ledge, with a sheer drop of many feet on one side, the contestants often were in imminent peril. Many cars skidded into the roadside ditches, and some are said to have required horses to drag them out. The farmers helped to push machipes up many of the hills.

The weather and roads were so bad that the autemobilists were not bothered by meet-have required norses to drag them out. Ine farmers helped to push machines up many of the hills.

The weather and roads were so bad that the automobilists were not bothered by meet-ing horses. The kindness of the farmers was surprising. They seem to have been converted to the motor car and hall it as something that will help them. One farmer remarked to THE SUN man that "The coming of the automobile means the coming of good of the automobile means the coming of good roads."

All those that were in the severe endurance run of 1901 to Buffalo, when it rained most of the week, agree that this is a much more severe task. The men who piloted motor cars across the continent, E. T. Fetch and L. L. Whitman, say that what they encountered to-day was worse than any of their experiences between San Francisco and New York. When it stormed during their big journey they did not have to go on.

In the morning, when some of the cars were near Andes, the raining skies grew darker, the wind increased to a gale and a severe hailstorn set in. It was next to impossible to see the road. During this storm the car of E. T. Fitch was left by him at the side of the road, and he sought shelter under a porch. Unadilla, sixty-two miles from Pine Hill, was the appointed place for dinner.

At 5 o'clock only fifteen of the thirty-three the side of the road, and he sought shelter under a porch. Unadilla, sixty-two miles from Pine Hill, was the appointed place for dinner.

At 5 o'clock only fifteen of the thirty-three cars had arrived there. The first car to get to Unadilla was that of F. B. Stearns of Cleveland. He reached there at 1:15 o'clock. The car in which the New York newspaper men are travelling had passed twenty contestants and was in the lead when it was laid up for several hours by tire troubles. On the various hills were seen the stones with which the wheels of cars had been blocked to keep them from running backward, and in half a dozen places were seen the marks where cars had skidded into the gully on the roadsides.

The stummit of the Catskills was crossed soon after leaving Pine Hill, and during the first twenty miles of the day four cars out of the twenty-four that started ahead of the newspaper men's car were found stalled by engine, gear or tire troubles. The mud got into every working part. The manufacturers and others in the run are complaining with a show of justice that the contest is not a reasonable one because no car would ever be called upon to travel 100 miles a day over such roads and in such weather. It certainly was unreasonable to ask that it should be done without any stops being made. The spirit of resignation set in yesterday and the competitors did not strain so hard and risk everything to avoid making a stop. It was seen that no one would make a perfect score and it became a motto to "Do the best you can and don't worry."

The observers on the cars were allowed to go indoors to eat to-day. The roads from here to Buffalo are better than those passed over, and from Buffalo to Cleveland the going is fine. From there to Pittsburg more roads as bad as those of the Catskills will be encountered. Although the run is now very young it seems probable that there will be only a few cars in at the finish. The run to-morrow will be to Bsth.

HE WOULDN'T BE NLACKBALLED Barbers in Brooklyn Lave Only Until Nov. 1 to Take Out Licenses. The State Board of Bariver Examiners, having opened an office at 1966 Gates avenue, Brooklyn, for the convenience of the unlicensed knights of the schoors in that borough, yesterday said they were dis-gusted with the dilatory tactions of the barbers for whom the place was started and issued a warning to the effect that after Nov. 1 every barber doing business without a license would be prosecuted.

"We have been too lenient with them," said Treasurer Louis Houseweller of the board yesterday. "We will enforce the law on Nov. 1. After that any barber who has not paid his license and agreed to work under the rules shall be fined $10 or sent to jail. On Nov. 1 the fee will be raised to $5.

"Of the 1,500 barbers in this berough not 500 have paid their license. Many of them fear blackmail. One German recursed me of being a blackmailer. I went to his place to see if he had his license cand. I told him he must get a card and where it could be seen.

"'Vhat did I wanted to get? he show where it could be seen.

"'Vhat did you say? A nice lithografter oard? You vant to lithografted me? No, I guess not. I vill never be blackhailed, und if you try to persuassion me to buy one of your nogoot licends I calls me der bolice—get out mit here!"

ROBBED ON HIS OWN DOOR Murphy's Boon Companions of a Nigh

Held for the Crime. Patrick Murphy, a publisher at 86 Walker street, who lives at 773 Carroll street. Brooklyn, was robbed by two men he was about to enter his home at 13 o'clock yesterday morning. One of them held Mr. Murphy by the throat while the other went through his pockets. They got only three or four dollars. Brown, a newsdealer, of 581 Fifth avenue, and Thomas Lee of 131 West Thirty-third street, Manhattan. The men pleaded not guilty in the Myrtle avenue police court yesterday morning.

Brown said he was at Washington and Sands streets, Brooklyn, waiting for his papers and went into a saloon, where he found Mr. Murphy, who asked him to have a drink. He said that Mr. Murphy invited him and Lee to escort him, Mr. Murphy invited him and Lee to escort him, Mr. Murphy o'clock yesterday morning. One of them

JOHNSTON WILL PROBATED. Miss De Monde, Surrogate Says, Has Become

Practically Mrs. Johnston's Daughter Surrogate Church in Brooklyn admitted to probate yesterday the will of the late Mrs. Charlotte Johnston by which she left most of her property to Miss Agnes De Monde, the Brooklyn public school principal, thus ending the contest in which spiritualism, hypnotism and a number of other "isms" played an important part. The Surrogate also ended all the talk about Miss De Monde being a "celestial bab," and a "spiritual child" of Mrs. Johnston by ruling that the evidence showed that the principal had been only a friend so close that she had become almost a daughclose that she had become almost a daughter to Mrs. Johnston.

Miss De Monde testified yesterday and denied all knowledge of the occult influences which previous witnesses had declared that she had used. Practically her only admission of belief in anything occult was that she recognized that there could be unconscious influence exercised by one person over another. She denied that she ever went with Mrs. Johnston to a sanitarium where the lecturer and his hearers wore no clothing and declared hearers wore no clothing and declared that she had never told Mrs. Johnston anything about having received spirit messages from Henry Ward Beecher.
